

Coaching Agreement

The Coaching Relationship

A coaching relationship can be a powerful experience, involving the development of new possibilities, new levels of achievement and personal growth. The coaching relationship between the coach and the client is founded upon mutual trust and respect. The central focus of the coaching relationship is the well-being of the client.

Fundamental to a successful coaching experience is learning. The coach supports the client in reaching the desired outcome of the client. The coach supports the client in exploring new ways to view situations, individuals, possibilities, and in developing new approaches, plans, strategies and actions. This innovation involves learning. At times, the learning may be challenging. There may be times when the learning involves new discoveries about the way an individual's own actions play a part in situations the individual wishes to change. This type of self-discovery can at times be uncomfortable.

All coaching conversations are confidential and we will not voluntarily divulge information about a coaching relationship without the written or verbal permission of the client. We follow the International Coach Federation (ICF) Code of Ethics.

The Coaching Arrangement

This agreement between Chris Schoolcraft and CLIENT begins _____ for a total of six months with one coaching call per week during the agreement period. The coach and the client will decide on the length of the sessions and the total duration of the coaching relationship. The sessions will be conducted via phone/Zoom at pre-scheduled times, unless otherwise agreed upon by both parties. Sessions may be supplemented by emails as needed until the final session is complete. Should the client choose to continue the coaching relationship with the coach after the initial six months, they shall execute a new agreement.

The Coaching Agreement

I understand that coaching is not therapy nor is the coach qualified to give legal or financial advice. I take full responsibility for all actions I take because of coaching and state that Chris Schoolcraft cannot be held responsible for any action taken or not taken because of coaching. I also agree to the following:

- I agree to be fully present and on time for all coaching conversations.
- I realize that I am completely responsible for my own growth and learning.
- I realize that there may be times in the coaching process where I may confront realizations that may be uncomfortable.
- I realize I need not discuss anything I am not comfortable discussing.
- I realize that I am responsible for my own actions and inactions.
- I realize that my coaching relationship is a resource, and that it is up to me to fully utilize this resource.
- I agree to communicate any concerns I have about the nature of my coaching relationship, my experience of the coaching relationship or any interactions with the coach.
- I agree to give at least 24 hours' notice if I need to change or cancel a session.
